INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS OF ORAL IMPLANTOLOGISTS

AUGUST 2015

ICOI and German Affiliates Will Celebrate World Congress in Berlin, Germany

The International Congress of Oral Implantologists (ICOI), its Component society, the Deutsche Gesellschaft für Orale Implantologie (DGOI) and German affiliate, Bundesverband der Implantologisch Tätigen Zahnärzte in Europa E.V (BDIZ EDI), will join hands as they present ICOI's World Congress XXXII in the vibrant capital of Germany, Berlin.

The dates for this World Congress are October 15-17, 2015. The venue for the meeting is the Maritim Hotel Berlin. The theme for this Congress will be "Evidence Based Innovations in Oral Implantology".

True to the title of World Congress, the faculty will bring together clinicians and academicians from around the world as they present the latest in dental implantology on topics from soft tissue applications around implants, growth factors in surgical healing, treatment of periimplantitis, digital communication skills for minimally invasive surgery and much more.

On Thursday morning October 15th, the Congress will begin with a four-hour Young Implantologists program. Delegates to this Congress will want to take advantage of what is new on the horizon as presented by our "up and coming" young implantologists: Roberta Gasparro (Italy), Teruaki Homma (Japan), Elisa Choukroun (France), Filipa Braga (Portugal), Paolo Nuzzolo (Italy), Daniel Grubeanu (Germany), Giuseppe Pantaleo (Italy), Nicolaos Mallios (Greece), Tom Giblin (Australia), Gil Asafrana (Israel) and Thilo Damaskos (Germany).

The afternoon will be filled by several no-charge Pre-Congress courses given by our sponsors. Following these important educational opportunities will be the Welcome Reception in the Exhibit Hall.

Friday and Saturday, October 16th and 17th, will feature our Main Podium speakers: Drs. Ata

Anil (Turkey), Joseph Choukroun (France), Mariusz Duda (Poland), Galip Gurel (Turkey), Fouad Khoury (Germany), Richard Leesungbok (South Korea), Pascal Marquardt (Germany), Jaafar Mouhyi (Morocco), Ady Palti (Germany), Yvan Poitras (Canada), Eric Rompen (Belgium), Iliia Roussou (Greece), Gerard Scortecchi (France), Ralf Smeets (Germany), Paolo Trisi (Italy), and Konstantinos Valavanis (Greece).

The social highlight for the Congress will be the Gala Dinner to be held on Friday evening at the beautiful Restaurant Maritim. The Gala will immediately follow the presentation of our Awards Ceremony and promises to be a night to remember. The food and drink will be complemented by a rousing band brought in from Baden Baden which will entertain the guests as they dance into the night.

Berlin is not only the capital of Germany, but also its cultural center, famous now for its museums, its philharmonic orchestra, multiple opera companies, modern architecture and captivating nightlife. Visitors to the new Berlin can also see reminders of the city's turbulent 20th century history including the Holocaust memorial and the Berlin Wall memorial and the Brandenburg Gate, the symbol of Berlin's unification. Also a main shopping center in Europe, visitors can find relief by a walk through Berlin's Central Park, the glorious Tiergarten. Plan to visit Germany at this perfect time of year...autumn in Berlin.

to ensure osteoinductivity

Prior to packaging and terminal sterilization, every lot of enCore® 70/30 Combination Allograft is tested in vitro for a minimum threshold of BMP-2. All lots that pass this initial test then undergo a final post-sterilization in vivo osteoinduction assay in the athymic rat model* to verify their osteoinductive potential. Any lot that fails either test is not released. enCore® 70/30 Combination Allograft combines the synergistic characteristics of slowly resorbing, space-maintaining mineralized cortical bone with osteoinductive demineralized matrix to provide an optimized environment for the regeneration of vital bone.

ICOI Lebanon 1st International Symposium

The newly formed ICOI chapter in Lebanon hosted its 1st International Implant Symposium in Beirut April 16 -18, 2015, under the patronage of the Faculty of Dental Medicine, Saint Joseph University, and in collaboration with the International Piezosurgery Academy.

Under the theme “Cutting Edge Technology in Oral Implantology”, the meeting was officially inaugurated by Dr. Gerard Scortecci, current President of the ICOI, who started with a brief introduction of the ICOI, its worldwide reach, and the importance of these newly formed chapters in the continuity of this organization, now with roots in over 100 countries.

Dr. Kenneth Judy, ICOI Co-Chairman, then thanked everyone who made this event possible. He went on to sum up the organization’s goals and aspirations, “The success of our members and the improvement in overall health care are paramount”, only to conclude on a more emotional note, welcoming the numerous soon-to-be diplomats and fellows who travelled all the way from Syria to attend the meeting, given the unstable situation in their country.

Prof. Nada Naaman, Dental Medicine Faculty Dean and Meeting Co-President, then extended her thanks to the ICOI, its Co-Chairman Dr. Judy and its President Dr. Scortecci, for this fruitful partnership. She went on to announce the celebrations for the Faculty’s 95-year anniversary, retracing its beginnings, adaptation and evolution, and concluded by highlighting the artistic program accompanying the event, specifically intended “to bring some quietness to our chaotic, ruthless world...”

It was then that Reverend Father Salim Daccache, Rector of Saint Joseph University, welcomed all the esteemed guests to this 140-year-old University, an institution wouldn’t have survived two world wars and numerous local civil disputes if it had not clung to its roots and stayed loyal to its principles. He then underlined the great importance of research and scientific openness in the prosperity and advancement of such an inveterate institution.

Finally, Dr. Christian Makary, the meeting’s Scientific Chairperson and President of the ICOI Lebanon chapter, thanked the previous speakers, the Faculty and the University for their relentless support in organizing an event of this scale in a country with such precarious surroundings. He retraced the obstacles and challenges in setting up this local chapter and stressed its inherent role in the evolution and improvement of the profession both locally and regionally.

The meeting reached regional and international heights, gathering global leaders in oral implantology with an exceptional panel of international lecturers sharing their clinical expertise in surgical practice, as well as recent advancements in research, academics and overall industry with a full-house conference room thanks to a large number of local and regional (mainly from Syria) attendees.

It was the chance for prominent names such as Jochen Alius (GER), Wael Att (GER), Joseph Choukroun (FRA), Georges Goumenos (GRE), Georges Khoury (FRA), Gerardo Pellegrino (ITA), Pedro Peña (SPA), Alberto Rebaudi (ITA), Marco Ronda (ITA), Gerard Scortecci (FRA), Simone Verardi (ITA) and Tomaso

Vercellotti (ITA) to make presentations, live transmissions and pre-congress courses covering numerous state-of-the-art topics in implantology and modern dentistry. Themes ranging from tooth extraction all the way until final prosthetic restoration were covered, from immediate implanting and photofunctionalization, standardized bone grafts and piezoelectric sinus lift techniques to 3D piezosurgery navigation and soft and hard tissue engineering.

A table top presentation was also held, with a jury of Dr. Kenneth Judy, Prof. Nada Naaman and Prof. Tomaso Vercellotti, on Saturday, April 18th grouping many post-graduate students each addressing an unusual and pertinent clinical case or an advanced research topic. The first prize was awarded to Dr. Joseph Abi Nasr for his impeccable presentation entitled: "Ultrasonic Implant Site Preparation: An In Vitro Evaluation".

The meeting was also the occasion for many applicants to receive their advanced credentials and become ICOI Diplomates and Fellows.

On another note, ICOI Lebanon's Symposium was an opportunity for guest speakers and attendees to visit Lebanon and experience its breath-taking landscapes, its majestic historical and archeological sites and its unique mixed and vibrant cultures. Nevertheless, the highlight of the "extra-curricular" activities was the exquisite Lebanese cuisine which was enjoyed on numerous occasions and in different forms and variations, be it on the formal events, such as the gala dinners and symposium lunches, or on more private and spontaneous endeavors.

The least that can be said about this meeting is that it was a success on many levels, best of luck to ICOI Lebanon and may the future bring nothing but improvement and progress.

Ad majorem dei gloriam.

IRAN

Iran COI Surges Forward

The first Congress of Iran COI was held June 10-12, 2015, in the Tehran Olympic Hotel. Iran COI is a component society of the ICOI in the Islamic Republic of Iran. This society was first named the Iranian Center of Oral Implantology and was upgraded to a Component Society during a meeting in Kusadasi, Turkey in July 2014. In November 2014 an Affiliate Society of ICOI in Iran named Iranian Implant Innovation (III) merged with the above component society and formed the IRAN COI. The ICOI newly appointed Vice Presidents from the previous societies are Dr. Mojtaba Seyedein, Mr. Amir Falakeh and Dr. Amir Ahangari acting for Iran COI as well.

Dr. Kazem Morshedi, a prosthodontist, was appointed as the Congress Chairman through votes of board members of Iran COI. Dr. Morshedi appointed Dr. Abolhassan Mesgarzadeh, the President of Iranian Association of Implantology as the scientific chairman, Dr. Ali Tajernia, Executive Director of the Iranian Dental Association, as the Director to the Congress exhibition, and Dr. Sina Navab as the Executive Director.

Preparation for this Congress started early in December 2014. In the exhibition 48 different dental companies, mainly implant companies, participated. The Diamond sponsor was The Almas Rouyan Company (representing the Intra-Lock company in Iran).

More than 1,600 dentists from Iran and other countries participated in this Congress. The Congress started on Wednesday 8:30 am with an opening ceremony. Dr. Seyedein, Dr. Morshedi, Dr. Mesgarzadeh, and Dr. Ahangari made short speeches. Dr. Gholamreza Ghaznavi, the President of Iranian

Dental Association, welcomed the guests and the participants and emphasized the importance of combining the efforts of ICOI societies in Iran into one society, which would make it stronger and more effective and prevent dispersion of resources. Dr. Alireza Zali, President of the Medical Council of Islamic Republic of Iran, inaugurated the ICOI Co-Chairman, Dr. Kenneth Judy and President of the Islamic Republic of Iran Medical Council, Dr. Alireza Zali signing the MOU.

Congress, with very strong support for the ICOI and its activities in Iran and the need to expand mutual and bilateral scientific exchange.

Dr. Kenneth Judy, ICOI Co-Chairman, addressed the Congress after Dr. Zali's speech. He used Shahnameh (the Persian literary masterpiece book of Kings) and the Latin phrase "Forsan et haec olim meminisse iuvabit" from the Aeneid to highly encourage Iranian scientific activities and the role of ICOI worldwide. His speech was very helpful to demonstrate ICOI activities and the capacity and abilities of this NGO in addition to its educational and credentialing elements.

A Memo of Understanding ("MOU") was signed between Dr. Zali and Dr. Judy which outlined certain items that will be completely described in a separate article, because the points are vital for the growth of implant dentistry in Iran.

Dr. Henriette Lerner, Dr. Kostas Valavanis, Dr. Guido Sarnachiaro, Mr. Uli Hauschild, Dr. Homa H. Zadeh, Dr. Robert Miller, and Dr. Stefano Benedicenti lectured for three days, sessions starting from 8:30 AM and finishing at 4:00 PM.

At the suggestion of Dr. Jack Hinterman, Secretary of the International College of Dentists, Dr. Kenneth Judy met with many of the leaders of the ICD for Iran not only to become better acquainted but also to explore joint future activities.

This was the first ICOI Congress in Iran which was self-sustaining and had no financial support from the Iranian Dental Association, although professional support of the Iranian Dental Association and specialty associations, such as the Iranian Association of Implantology, Iranian Association of Prosthodontists and Iranian Association of Maxillofacial Surgeons was officially announced and appreciated.

The Congress was done in collaboration with the Iranian Dental Association and Laser Research Center of Tehran University. Twelve workshops were also running parallel to the main hall lectures during the three days of the Congress.

Dental technicians and dental hygienists participated in the Congress as well. The dental technicians had two separate and parallel sessions on June 10th and 11th. Over 150 dental technicians participated.

Additionally, of note, 6 Syrian dentists participated as well as dentists from Afghanistan. All registered as ICOI new members.

The award ceremony was done on Friday, June 12th after the last lecture. There were 32 Fellowships, 11 Masterships and 5 Diplomate candidates plus one Honorary Diplomate. All received their certificates from Dr. Judy and a group photo was taken to commemorate this event.

ITALY

The Academia Italiana di Stomatologia Implodontoprotetica (A.I.S.I.) 15th International Congress was held in Bologna

Under the leadership of its President Dr. Pietro Ferrante, and of Professor Claudio Marchetti, Head of Maxillo-facial Department at Bologna University Dental School, A.I.S.I. celebrated its 15th International Congress on February 27-28, 2015 in Bologna, Italy.

The congress theme was “Malpractice and Implant Prosthetic Controversy”, which gave different speakers the opportunity of discussing about forensic hazard, malpractice, risk evaluation and failure prevention in Implant Prosthodontics. But the range of topics in discussion was quite larger, and lots of interesting professional experiences were shared between speakers and congress attendees.

Since A.I.S.I. is an ICOI affiliated society, the congress hosted many ICOI Fellows among its speakers, namely Dr. Jack T. Krauser and Dr. Avi Schetritt, from Florida, U.S.A., Dr. Pablo Galindo Moreno, from Spain, and Drs. Jabbar Hasanov and Nigar Hasanova, from Azerbaijan; which made the event a real extensive, worldwide sharing experience.

Actually A.I.S.I. has always been open to any scientific contribution, coming both from the professional and the academic worlds; and new experiences from other countries and different implant schools are absolutely welcome.

Beside the main program for dentists, two lateral sessions had been set up for laboratory technicians and auxiliaries, following the A.I.S.I. philosophy of promoting an efficient co-operation within the whole dental team.

The scientific schedule was extremely rich and tight, but there was also time to relax and enjoy some pleasant coffee breaks, good talks and a lively social dinner in a typical Bolognese historical restaurant. Not only good food and wine, but a lively relaxed atmosphere, music and lots of dancing and good humor.

A.I.S.I.'s next International Congress will be held in Bologna next March 4-5, 2016, and all the ICOI members are absolutely welcome to attend it.

THAILAND

Thailand has had a long history with the ICOI as well as with implantology in general. Recently our Asia/Pacific Executive Director, Kate Matsumoto, has begun once again to increase our presence there and helped organize an inaugural ICOI Fellowship course. Dr. Chanavut Asvanund gave this course a “thumbs up”. We expect rapid growth and will report it in a future issue. Many Thai doctors are expected in Cambodia on November 13-15, 2015.

JAPAN

Japanese Memory and Generosity

Dr. Tetsuro Kawaguchi passed recently and his activities as a Board member will be greatly missed. Our condolences are respectfully made to his wife who is also an ICOI member. Dr. Kawaguchi generously remembered the ICOI in his will and made an extremely generous contribution to IDREF. This donation will be earmarked and used for an educational initiative in the Asia/Pacific section.

PSI/DGOI/ICOI 9th International Congress

This year's PSI Congress was held 12-13 June at Hotel Mercure in Poznań, Poland. 5 pre-congress workshops, Main Podium, Active Implantologists Podium, 212 participants and 18 lecturers, 22 exhibitors, 19 presented ICOI Fellowships, 5 passed ICOI Diplomate Exams, Poster Session and 2nd International Weekend for Curriculum of Implantology all were integral parts of PSI/DGOI/ICOI 9th International Congress that is now behind us and has been successfully completed.

Implantation in compromised anatomical conditions, minimal invasive techniques and surgical strategies in esthetic zones were leading topics of the Congress. Among speakers one could find representatives of ICOI and DGOI together with PSI friends and invited by corporate sponsors national and international lecturers.

Every two years during the PSI Congress, ICOI Fellowship and Diplomate Exams were carried out. Head of Educational Board Prof. Dr. Ady Palti together with Board members Dr. Mariusz Duda, PhD, Prof. Ryszard Koczorowski and Krzysztof Osmola, PhD according to advanced ICOI voluntary credentialing programs performed International Fellowship and Diplomate Exam. A total of nineteen (19) doctors were presented with ICOI Fellowship and five (5) doctors received ICOI Diplomate status.

Dr. Mariusz Duda, PhD, DICOI was elected as PSI President for 2015 - 2019 for a third term with the full support of the PSI members during PSI Members General Meeting.

On Friday evening a special social program for this Congress began. There was an open air Party Poznań including open bar, DJ's and grill accompanied by excellent weather. For those who were the most tenacious it lasted till the break of dawn.

By Dr. Mariusz Duda, President PSI

During the ceremony Prof. Maciej Romanowicz – honorary PSI member and Prof. Ryszard Koczorowski, PSI Vice-President, were awarded a Star Implantologist Statuette for outstanding service to the PSI.

The Advanced Credentials' ICOI Fellowship and Diplomate Awards Ceremony was held on Saturday 13 June and was accompanied by Certificate Celebration for PSI members who successfully graduated educational program PSI/DGOI/ICOI Curriculum for Implantology in years 2013-2014.

- Personalized patient-education videos produced by Dear Doctor Inc. explore the exciting and beneficial technology of dental implants in easy-to-understand terminology. Best of all, these videos are FREE to you as an ICOI member.
- There are 3 levels of Advanced Credentials available to you as an ICOI member: Fellowship, Mastership and Diplomate. If you are a credentialed member, please be sure to attend an ICOI meeting once every three years as part of your maintenance requirements.
- Train your Team. Our Auxiliary division, the Association of Dental Implant Auxiliaries (ADIA) provides team member training. Bring your team to the next symposium where they can be trained and participate in one of our 4 certification programs. Advanced Credentials are available for them too!
- If you missed one of our complimentary monthly webinars, check the archives. Members have access to the recordings, as well as resource guides and educational articles, in the Member's Section of www.dentalimplants.com
- We are always interested in our Members' Achievements, should you have one to share please submit text and pictures to: icoi@dentalimplants.com
